

The 37th person to identify how the Fall 2018 newsletter identifies Joyce Dusman wins the contest. Contest participants must affirm that they have not entered the contest at the urging of others and have done so under their own volition. Contestants must be current residents of Hallam Borough. Contestants may not be Joyce and her family members, Borough employees or officials or immediate family members of Borough employees or officials. To enter the contest, you must email the Borough secretary at secretary@hallamborough.com with your response. The date and time on the email will determine. In the case of a tie, the winner will be determined by a completely arbitrary process that I have not yet devised. The prize consists of me donating $100.00 to the charity of your choice. In your email, you must state that you affirm you have not been told to enter this contest by another, but that you independently saw the offer on the website and acted by yourself. You also need to say what charity should receive the money. It must be a legitimate charity. You should also state whether you wish to have the glaring light of all the notoriety this website can offer shine on you or whether you wish to be anonymous.
